

Army and Navy Academy

ABOUT

The Army and Navy Academy is a boarding school for boys dedicated to preparing its students for their future with discipline and a carefully planned college preparatory curriculum. The curriculum is based on the entrance requirements put forth by the University of California. Along with their rigorous coursework the Academy offers a variety of extra curricular activities such as, a JROTC leadership program, an athletic program and a residential life program.

Students at the Academy are encouraged to get involved in community service and extra curricular activities. In addition to classes there is a focus on a meticulous daily schedule. Although the military infrastructure is used to teach students the discipline, stamina and self motivation needed to succeed, military service is not a requirement after graduation.

LOCATION

Sixteen acres of oceanfront property comprise the Army and Navy Academy in beautiful Carlsbad, located in sunny southern California. The school is within walking distance from the charming town of Carlsbad. The cosmopolitan city of San Diego is about 1 hour away and Los Angeles is just 90 minutes by car.

CURRICULUM

Small classroom sizes allow teachers to focus on each student's strengths and weaknesses and use appropriate strategies to help them excel. The dedicated teachers at the Army and Navy Academy recognize that each student learns differently and that the end of class time does not mean the end of learning. They are committed to teaching until the lesson is learned whether that be after school or during evening study hall. The students also have the chance to interact with their teachers on different levels as they participate in different clubs and sports together.

In addition to their core curriculum, students are also exposed to visual arts, drama and music. Students at the Academy will learn to become self-motivated individuals in a structured and carefully planned learning environment. Graduates of the academy have gone on to Universities such as UC Berkeley, UCLA, etc.
